

UT Health

San Antonio

Regional Campus

Laredo

Mini-Fellowship in Public Health

Summer 2017

July 10 - August 3

A hands-on instruction of methodologies and techniques used to conduct epidemiologic population-based research.

Exposure to environmental issues that present a challenge, and at the same time offer solutions to the health of the community.

Learning Objectives

- Understand public health research methods and study designs.
- Identify the steps required for conducting population research.
- Have hands-on experience in population-based research including:
 - Subject recruitment
 - Information and biological sample collection.
 - Environmental exposures and how they affect public health
 - Database establishment and data entry
 - Data analysis
 - Results explanation and manuscript writing
- Hands on experience with simulation case scenarios and other resources in the diagnosis and treatment of medical conditions.

Prerequisites

- Minimum 3.0 GPA
- Completed courses in one of the following areas:
 - Biology
 - Chemistry
 - Organic Chemistry
 - Physics
- Computer Proficient

Application Deadline: May 26, 2017

1937 E. Bustamante Laredo, Texas 78041

(956) 523-7400 laredocampus@uthscsa.edu